SEC TEAMS EMBARK ON FAYETTEVILLE FOR NCAA INDOORS

The track and field teams of the Southeastern Conference embark on Fayetteville, Ark., this weekend for the 2015 NCAA Indoor Championships at the Randal Tyson Track Center. It marks the 12th time that the NCAA Indoor Championships will be contested in Fayetteville.

Limited seats remain with two-day, all-session tickets available at $30 for general admission. Tickets for the NCAA meet can be purchased by contacting the Razorback Ticket Center at 800-982-HOGS (4647) or by visiting the Ticket Center located just east of Baum Stadium.

The NCAA Indoor Championships will be streamed live on ESPN3 and the WatchESPN mobile applications, and a recap show of the meet will air Monday, March 23 at 7 p.m. ET on ESPNU.

SEC men's track and field teams have won 18 NCAA Indoor Championships all-time with Arkansas claiming a league-best 12 since joining the SEC in 1992. The Razorbacks were the last SEC men's team to win an NCAA Indoor Championship, doing so in 2012.

SEC women's track and field teams have won 14 NCAA Indoor Championships all-time with LSU holding a league-best 11. Tennessee was the last SEC women's team to win an NCAA Indoor Championship with that title coming in 2009.

A nation-leading 16 SEC men's and women's track and field programs are rated among the nation's top-25 teams, according to the latest Division I Indoor Track and Field National Team Computer Rankings, announced on Monday by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association.

The Florida men and Arkansas women are predicted to win the 2015 NCAA Indoor Championships according to the latest computer rankings. Florida is seeking its fourth all-time NCAA men's indoor title, while Arkansas is in search of its first all-time NCAA women's indoor crown.

The SEC boasts five teams in the top-10 on both the men's and women's sides. Each of the top-four spots in the latest women's rankings belongs to SEC teams.

The USTFCCA rankings algorithm is a holistic projection of the teams' finishing order, taking into account not just where athletes are on the national list, but the likelihood of each athlete finishing in scoring territory.

LENDORE WINS 2014 BOWERMAN AWARD

An undefeated season and a pair of national championship titles in the 400 meters earned Texas A&M sprinter Deon Lendore a prestigious honor in track and field as he was named the 2014 winner of The Bowerman Award during a ceremony held at the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association convention.

It's the second Bowerman honor for the Aggie track and field program as Texas A&M joins Oregon as the only schools to have a male and female recipient of the award. Aggie sprinter Jessica Beard claimed the 2011 Bowerman Award.

Lendore went undefeated through 14 races at 400 meters in 2014, sweeping SEC and NCAA titles in the event as he produced some of the fastest times ever run by a collegian in the open 400 as well as on 4x400 relay legs.

The native of Trinidad & Tobago set a national record indoors with his A&M school record of 45.03 at the SEC Indoor Championships, which is fourth fastest ever by a collegian indoors and sixth best on the world all-time list.

When Lendore won his first individual national title at the NCAA Indoor Championships in March his time of 45.21 was the second fastest winning mark in the history of the meet.

Outdoors, he moved to No. 10 on the all-time collegiate list with a 44.36 clocking to win the SEC Outdoor title. The 44.36, which broke a 45-year-old Aggie record set by Curtis Mills, was the fourth fastest time in the world for the 2014 season. Lendore posted a 45.02 to become the first A&M winner of the NCAA Outdoor 400m title since Mills won in 1969.

Accomplishments during Lendore's junior campaign included five SEC titles and three NCAA championships as he added three SEC relay titles and one NCAA relay title to his individual championship races.

In completing a third sweep of indoor and outdoor conference 400m titles, Lendore also achieved a third set of 4x400 relay titles. He is a perfect 13 for 13 in conference races over his career, which includes six races in the 400, six in the 4x400, and once in the 4x100.

In relay action Lendore anchored four A&M school record performances in the 4x100 (38.30), 4x200 (1:20.29), 4x400 indoor (3:03.20) and 4x400 outdoor (2:59.60).

The indoor 4x400 effort at the SEC Championships was a collegiate indoor record as Lendore's split of 44.63 seconds, the fastest ever recorded by a collegian indoors, secured the victory. Lendore supplied the Aggies with a split of 44.10 seconds in the 4x400 at the NCAA Outdoor Championships as A&M claimed the win and just missed the collegiate record by 0.01 of a second with a 2:59.60, the second fastest collegiate time ever run.

NATION-BEST SIXTEEN NATIONALLY RANKED SEC TEAMS

Entering the 2015 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships, a nation-leading 16 Southeastern Conference men's and women's track and field programs are ranked among the nation's top-25 teams, according to the latest Division I Indoor Track and Field National Team Computer Rankings, announced Monday by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association.

The Florida men and the Arkansas women are predicted to win the 2015 NCAA Indoor Championships according to the latest computer rankings. The 2015 NCAA Indoor Championships are slated for March 13-14 at the Randal Tyson Track Center in Fayetteville, Ark.

The SEC boasts five teams in the top-10 on both the men's and women's sides. Each of the top-four spots in the latest women's rankings belongs to SEC teams.

The USTFCCCA rankings algorithm is a holistic projection of the teams' finishing order, taking into account not just where athletes are on the national list, but the likelihood of each athlete finishing in scoring territory. Historically, top-ranked men's teams have fared well at the NCAA Championships. In five of the seven years of USTFCCCA Rankings, the pre-meet favorite has gone on to win the title later that week. Three of the last five women's national champions were ranked No. 1 in the final pre-championship computations.

ALABAMA

The Alabama men's team is ranked 11th nationally while the Crimson Tide women are 28th overall in the final indoor team rankings by the United States Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) released on Monday ... senior sprinter Remona Burchell and Arkansas distance runner Dominique Scott are co-recipients of the 2015 SEC Runner of the Year honor for Indoor Track & Field by virtue of a vote of the conference's head coaches, the SEC office announced Monday afternoon ... Burchell has been named the NCAA South Region Women's Track Athlete of the Year by the USTFCCCA, and has been selected to the Pre-Indoor NCAA Championships edition of the women's Watch List for the 2015 Bowerman Trophy, collegiate track & field's highest individual honor ... Burchell is undefeated on the track in 2015 and set a collegiate record in the 60-meter dash (7.08 seconds) on Feb. 28 at the SEC Indoor Championships ... the 2014 NCAA indoor 60-meter champion and the 2014 NCAA outdoor 100-meter champion, Burchell ran the second-fastest 60 run in the world so far this season on Feb. 28 and, dating back to her 7.11 last year at altitude to win the NCAA title in Albuquerque, N.M., she now has two of the five fastest times in collegiate history ... Burchell has posted the five fastest 60-meter dash times in Alabama history and she owns 11 of the 13 fastest times on the Crimson Tide's all-time list ... 11 Alabama athletes (9 men and 2 women) have been accepted for entry into the 2015 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships to be held this weekend (March 13-14) in Fayetteville, Ark. ... the 11 Crimson Tide athletes will compete in nine total events led by Remona Burchell, the top-ranked sprinter in the women's 60-meter dash ... on the men's side, junior Cameron Hudson is entered in a team-best three events - the 60-meter dash, long jump and 4x400-meter relay - while three other Alabama men are entered to compete in two events: Alex Amankwah (men's 800 and 4x400 relay), Steven Gayle (men's 4x400 relay and distance medley relay) and Jacopo Lahbi (men's 800 and 4x400 relay) ... joining them will be Matt Airola in the men's distance medley relay (DMR), Robbie Farnham-Rose (men's DMR), Justin Fondren (men's high jump), Jeremiah Green (men's long jump), Marlon Humphrey (men's 4x400 relay) and Lakan Taylor in the women's pole vault ... At the 2015 SEC Indoor Championships on Feb. 27-28, the Crimson Tide women produced their highest team finish in five years, as well as their highest points total over that span, with an eighth-place team finish with 34 points, while the Alabama men finished sixth in the team standings with 49 points ... Alabama's sixth-place men's team finish marked only the third time since 2002 that the Tide has posted a finish in the top six at the SEC indoor meet.

ARKANSAS

Men - The Razorback men enter the NCAA Indoor Championships as the No. 3 team in the country. Overall, the team has 10 national qualifiers spread among nine events with three past NCAA champions scheduled for action in Andrew Irwin in the pole vault, Jarrion Lawson in the long jump and Omar McLeod in the 60-meter hurdles. Arkansas and the Randal Tyson Track Center are hosting the NCAA Indoor Championships for the 12th time. In recognition of his standout efforts through the first two months of the indoor season, McLeod was named the SEC Runner of the Year, USTFCCCA South Central Track Athlete of the Year and a member of the pre-NCAA Bowerman Watch List. Another postseason honor went to sprints and pole vault coach Doug Case who was selected as the USTFCCCA South Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year. Women - For the fourth-consecutive week, the Razorback women are the No. 1 team in the country and enter the NCAA Indoor Championships with a nation-leading 15 entries spread among 10 events. The program is set to host the national meet for the 12th time at the Randal Tyson Track Center. Arkansas is the defending national champion in the DMR and Dominique Scott has the top seed time at 3,000 meters. Scott was named the Co-SEC Runner of the Year and the USTFCCCA South Central Region Track Athlete of the Year while head coach Lance Harter earned top honors from both organizations, as well. Additionally, Sandi Morris was voted the Co-

SEC Field Athlete of the Year, SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year and retained her spot on the latest Bowerman Watch List.

AUBURN

The Auburn track and field team will send three athletes to the 2015 NCAA Indoor Championships, March 13-14 at the Randal Tyson Track Complex in Fayetteville, Ark. Seniors DJ Smith and Samantha Scarlett along with junior Jessie Johnson will compete after placing in the top-16 in their respective event nationally. Smith captured the SEC title in the men's high jump, clearing 7-3.25/2.22m, becoming the first Tiger to win the event since Donald Thomas in 2007. Smith, whose mark ranks eighth nationally, will be making his first appearance at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Scarlett earned her way into the field at the SEC Championships after posting a time of 8.20 in the 60m hurdles to finish fourth overall in the event. Scarlett competed at the NCAA Indoor Championships last season in the event, placing 11th. Johnson tied for second at the SEC Indoor Championships with a clearance of 14-0.5/4.28m. The Argyle, Texas native has broken her school record three times this season.

FLORIDA

A total of 23 Gator track and field athletes are among the accepted competitors to the 2015 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships, set for March 13 & 14 at the Randal Tyson Track Center in Fayetteville. The No. 1/2 Gators will take a group of 25 athletes to NCAA Indoors, including two relay alternates, as the women's squad qualified 12 with 13 event entries, second-most in the country, and the men's team 11 athletes with a nation-leading 14 event entries for 2015 indoors. The Orange and Blue own a combined four NCAA Indoor Championships, including one on the women's side in 1992 and three straight for the Florida men from 2010-12. Both University of Florida squads finished third at last year's NCAA Indoor Championships in Albuquerque, marking the men's sixth-straight top-three finish and the highest finish for the women's program indoors under head coach Mike Holloway. On the women's side, Florida's 40.5 points at indoor nationals were its most in 10 years, while the Gators' 20 All-America honors were the most in program history.

GEORGIA

Men - The sixth-ranked Bulldogs roll into Fayetteville, Ark., for the NCAA Indoor Championships trying to finish as strong as they started. Georgia will take six team members to compete at the Randal Tyson Track, including three in the heptathlon. Junior Garrett Scantling is the national leader in the multi-events while his junior training partner, Maicel Uibo, stands second in the national rankings and finished as the runner-up to Scantling at the SEC Championships. Uibo was also named the SEC Scholar Athlete of the Year this week. Sophomore Devon Williams is a third Bulldog in the heptathlon after the Marietta, Ga., native helped Georgia go 1-2-3 in the event at SECs for the first time in history. Another pair of Bulldogs will throw in the shot put competition. Senior Nick Vena, who will be competing at his fourth consecutive NCAA indoor meet, joins junior Ashinia Miller in the shot put field. Miller briefly took over the national lead after setting the school record of 66 feet, 7 3/4 inches and joins Vena in the nation's current top six. Georgia's final male qualifier is UGA's only competitor in an open track event. Senior Brandon Lord has advanced to his first NCAA Indoor Championships after running in three NCAA cross meets as well as the 2014 NCAA Outdoor Championships. Lord will be running in the 5000 meters after setting both the 5000 and 3000 school records this season. Women - The fourth-ranked Lady Bulldogs will bring seven competitors to battle in five field events on the Arkansas campus. The current national leader, defending NCAA champion and collegiate record holder in the pentathlon, sophomore Kendell Williams, joins her senior roommate Quintunya Chapman in the pentathlon field. Williams was recently named the USTFCCCA South Region Women's Field Athlete of the Year after scoring the second-highest mark in collegiate history in the pentathlon (4,609 points) earlier this year. Another Georgia pair, freshman Keturah Orji and junior Chanice Porter, will be competing in the long jump. Porter was the 2014 NCAA indoor runner-up and was also a First Team All-American outdoors last year. Orji, who will be competing in two events at these Championships, was third in the long jump at SECs. The true freshman from Mount Olive, N.J., was named the SEC Freshman Field Athlete of the Year earlier this week for her efforts in the long jump, and especially the triple jump. Orji owns the national lead and the American Junior and school records in the triple jump and finished first in the event at the conference meet. In the high jump, sophomores Leontia Kallenou and Tatiana Gusin are anticipating another showdown like the one at SECs, where Kallenou tied her meet record at 6 feet, 2 3/4 inches to edge Gusin as she reached a personal best (6-1.50) for second. The Lady Bulldogs' final competitor is the most experienced at the NCAA Championships. Senior Morgann Leleux finished second in the pole vault at the 2012 NCAA Indoor Championships and then as the runner-up at that year's national outdoor meet as well. Winning an SEC indoor title in the event last year, Leleux comes into the meet ranked fifth in the national standings.

TEAM-BY-TEAM NOTEBOOK

KENTUCKY

The Kentucky women's track and field team will enter this weekend's NCAA Indoor Championships with a school-record No. 3 ranking, as the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association released its most recent computer ratings on Monday. Kentucky has 11 entries that qualified for NCAAs, which is the fourth most in the nation. UK increased the number of Wildcats who qualified for the Indoor National Championships by three from last season to 11 women's entries. Senior Kendra Harrison enters the meet with the collegiate-leading 60m hurdles time of 7.92. Harrison will enter the meet relatively fresh as the SEC Championships were her season debut. Harrison teamed up with Dezereza Bryant and Morganne Phillips and Aria Graham to turn in the fourth ranked 4x400m relay, a SEC Silver Medal and school-record performance of 3:31.53. Bryant, who was sidelined for five weeks leading up to SECs, recorded the No. 5 NCAA 200m time and matched her No. 3 NCAA 60m time at SECs in a double Silver Medal performance last weekend. Bryant is the defending NCAA Champion at 200m and Silver Medalist at 60m. Sha'Keela Saunders and Kenyattia Hackworth, who won the SEC Gold and Silver Medals respectively enter the NCAA long jump ranked Nos. 2 and 3 respectively. Saunders is the reigning NCAA Outdoor Long Jump Silver Medalist. Saunders owns the No. 9 NCAA triple jump this season. Rebecca Famurewa ranks No. 9 in the weight throw (17'10.75"/21.61m). Morganne Phillips will be the No. 13-seed in the 400m hurdles with a season-best time of 52.69, which she ran in a fourth-place performance at the SEC Championships. Sha'Keela Saunders of the fourth-ranked Kentucky track and field team was named Southeast Region Field Athlete of the Year by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association this weekend. Saunders won the Southeastern Conference Long Jump Gold Medal last week, going 1-2 with teammate Kenyattia Hackworth. The Suffolk, Virginia, native has just one loss in the long jump this year, coming to the current collegiate leader at the Tyson Invitational on Feb. 14. She defeated the defending NCAA Outdoor Long Jump Champion at Kentucky's prestigious Rod McCravy Memorial in January. She has posted jumps over 21 feet in her last three competitions including a 21'6"/6.55-meter school-record jump to win the SEC Title. Saunders came back the next day to finish fourth in an elite triple jump competition with a 42'11"/13.08m which is just below her personal best of 42'11 3/4"/13.10m that currently ranks ninth nationally. Kendra Harrison of the fourth-ranked Kentucky track and field team has been named to the latest addition of the Bowerman Trophy Watch List. The Kentucky men's team will be represented by Bradley Szyzpa in the shot put and Keffri Neal in the mile. Szyzpa is the No. 8 shot put seed. He finished fifth at NCAAs last season. Neal will be making his NCAA Indoor Championship debut. He enters the meet with a No. 12 seed time of 3:58.02. All 16 of the mile entries have run sub-four-minute miles this season.

LSU

Men - After tying for eighth place in the final men's team standings at the NCAA Division I Indoor Track & Field Championships a year ago, the LSU Tigers have cracked the Top 10 of the final U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association Top 25 power rankings of the 2015 indoor season as the No. 8-ranked team in the country as they head to the national meet this weekend to be held Friday and Saturday at Arkansas' Randal Tyson Track Center in Fayetteville. The Tigers won their fourth NCAA Indoor national championship in the men's 4x400-meter relay and Vernon Norwood sprinted to the NCAA Indoor silver medal in the men's 400-meter dash as the team scored 18 points at the national meet held at the Albuquerque Convention Center in New Mexico in 2014. Norwood returns for his final NCAA Indoor Championships this weekend as he is set to line up in the 400 meters once again with a seasonal-best time of 45.56 seconds, while the Tigers return all four legs that took home the national title in the mile relay a year ago. Norwood will be joined in the relay by fellow senior and 400-meter qualifier Quincy Downing and juniors Darrell Bush and Cyril Grayson as they have run a top time this season of 3 minutes, 4.28 seconds. Making his NCAA Indoor Championships return in the 200-meter dash is former All-American Aaron Ernest, who was recently crowned the SEC Indoor Champion in the event for the second time in his collegiate career after racing to a seasonal-best time of 20.67 in the qualifying round. Also making their NCAA Indoor debuts with the Tigers this weekend will be senior Joshua Thompson with a seasonal-best time of 7.73 in the 60-meter hurdles and sophomore Tremayne Acy with a seasonal-best time of 20.85 in the 200 meters. The action kicks off with the qualifying rounds on the track on Friday, followed by the championship finals on Saturday at the Randal Tyson Track Center. Women - The LSU Lady Tigers are poised to improve upon their tie for 12th place finish in the final women's team standings at the NCAA Division I Indoor Track & Field Championships a year ago as they have matched their representation from a season ago with eight entries into this year's championship being held this weekend at the Randal Tyson Track Center in Fayetteville, Arkansas. This week, the Lady Tigers have earned their best national ranking of the 2015 indoor season as the No. 15-ranked women's team nationally in the latest U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association Top 25 power ranking released Monday. The Lady Tigers feature a true national championship contender in the form of senior Tori Bliss, who joined the 60-foot club in the shot put while being crowned the SEC Indoor Champion in the event on Feb. 27 with a SEC Indoor meet record of 60 feet, 1 inch on her very first throw of the competition. LSU's 2014 NCAA Outdoor silver medalist is poised to earn her second career All-America honor while making her first career appearance at the NCAA Indoor Championships. An NCAA Indoor finalist in the long jump in her debut a year ago, sophomore Nataliyah Friar is the team's lone NCAA Championships qualifier in two events as she will appear in both the long jump and triple jump next weekend. Friar owns the No. 11-ranked mark at 20-9 3/4 in the long jump and No. 13-ranked mark at 42-6 in the triple jump in the field appearing at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Along with Bliss, a host of youthful Lady Tigers have qualified for the NCAA Indoor Championships for the first time in their collegiate careers, including sophomore Jada Martin in the 200 meters with the No. 8 time this season at 23.30, sophomore Morgan Schuetz in the 800 meters with a time of 2:04.87 to grab the 16th and final spot in the field, freshman Daeshon Gordon in the 60-meter hurdles with a time of 8.20 for the 13th-fastest time in the country and freshmen Aleia Hobbs (7.29) and Mikiah Brisco (7.30) at No. 15 and No. 16 in the women's 60-meter dash.

TEAM-BY-TEAM NOTEBOOK

OLE MISS

Men - Coming off their best SEC finish in 31 years, the Ole Miss men will send a pair of athletes to this weekend's NCAA Indoor Championships in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Sophomore Jalen Miller, the first SEC 60-meter champion in Ole Miss history, is among the favorites to win the national title in the shortest sprint. He ranks third in the NCAA with a school record-tying 6.55 earlier this year at the Armory. In nine 60-meter races (prelims and finals) this year, he is undefeated and has run 6.60 or faster eight times. Miller was a first team All-American when he finished eighth at last year's NCAA indoor meet (6.69). Senior Phillip Young will compete in the triple jump. He ranks ninth nationally with a season-best mark of 52-9.5 that he achieved in Fayetteville at the Tyson Invitational. Young placed third in the long jump and fourth in the triple jump at the recent SEC indoor meet. It's not the first NCAA Championship appearance for Young, though. He competed for the Rebels in the triple jump at last year's NCAA outdoor meet, and during his time at Florida State he competed at four different national meets. For his entire career, he is a five-time All-American. The Ole Miss men placed fourth at the SEC indoor meet, their best showing since finishing third in 1984. In addition to Miller, the Rebels picked up SEC titles from Daniel Bulmer in the mile and the distance medley relay squad of Bulmer, Dameon Morgan, Holland Sherrer and Craig Engels. It was the second straight DMR title for Ole Miss, and it was done with four different relay members than last year's group (Robert Domanic, Montez Griffin, Will Spiers, Sean Tobin). Ole Miss tied for 24th at last year's NCAA indoor meet and has placed top 25 on 10 occasions in its history. Women - Ole Miss will send two athletes to this weekend's NCAA Indoor Championships in Fayetteville, Arkansas. Brooke Feldmeier, who was just crowned SEC Freshman Runner of the Year, will compete in the 800 meters. In her first season ever as a regular 800-meter runner, she was SEC runner-up in a school-record 2:04.34 that leads all freshmen in the nation. She ranks second in the conference and ninth nationally, overall. She was a multi-eventer and 400-meter runner as a high schooler last year in Olympia, Washington. Fifth-year senior Fabia McDonald returns to the national indoor meet for the second time after she placed 15th in the pentathlon in 2012 and was a second team All-American. She was on top of her game at the recent SEC indoor meet, placing sixth and breaking her own school record with a score of 4,168 that ranks her 13th in the NCAA this year. In its history, Ole Miss has placed top 25 three times at the NCAA indoor meet, with a best of 13th in 2008.

MISSISSIPPI STATE

After earning the highest finish in school history at the SEC Indoor Championships, the Mississippi State women's track and field team moved up six spots to No. 12 in the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association Rankings. At the SEC Indoor Championships this past weekend, the Bulldogs brought home seventh place and broke three school records, while senior Erica Bougard was also chosen as the 2015 SEC Women's Cliff Harper Trophy. Next up for the MSU track teams is the NCAA Championships, which will be held on March 13-14 in Fayetteville, Ark.

MISSOURI

Three Tigers are departing for Fayetteville, Ark., this weekend to take part in the 50th running of the NCAA Indoor Championships. Representing the black and gold will be seniors Kearsten Peoples (weight throw, shot put) and Jill Rushin (shot put), and junior Markesh Woodson (60m dash). All three enter the two-day meet ranked in the top 10 of their respective events, including a national-leading position for Peoples in the weight throw. Peoples' second PR of the season in the weight, 22.84m (74-11.25), not only set her over a foot ahead of the rest of the field, but was also put her at No. 7 All-Time in the NCAA for the event. Peoples will follow Friday's weight throw competition with a go in the shot put ring on Saturday. Joining her will be fellow-senior Jill Rushin, who currently owns the No. 5 mark in the NCAA this season with her lifetime best toss of 17.61m (57-9.50). The lone running event of the weekend for the Tigers also features the lone representative from the men's team, as Markesh Woodson prepares to line up in the 60m dash. This will be his first NCAA Indoor Championships appearance since his freshman year, when he placed fifth in the field. Woodson secured his spot in this year's championship meet with his PR, and school record, performance at the SEC Championships, where he placed second in 6.58. Events will begin at the Randal Tyson Track on Friday (March 13) and continue through Saturday (March 14).

SOUTH CAROLINA

Selections for the 2015 Division I indoor track and field championships were announced March 3, with four student-athletes from the Carolina men's team punching a ticket for Fayetteville, Ark. Jermaine Collier, Dondre Echols and Jussi Kanervo qualified in the 60-meter hurdles, and Ncincilili Titi qualified in the 200-meter dash. The four entries are the most for the men's team since sending five to the 2010 indoor championship. Collier ended the regular season on a high note two weekends ago, earning bronze in the 60mH at the SEC Championships in Kentucky. The junior from Trenton, N.J. owns the ninth-fastest time in the country for the event, 7.76 set at the Tyson Invitational, coincidentally the same track that will host the national championships. This will be his first trip to indoor nationals as well. Echols came a few thousandths of a second from getting a chance at the finals of the 60mH at the SECs, but enters the national championship with a chance at a title. The junior from Oxon Hill, Md. ran the second-fastest time in the country for the indoor season, a 7.72 at the Armory Invitational on Jan. 31. This will be his first trip to indoor nationals. Kanervo earned his spot at nationals in the final weekend of the season, running a 7.77 preliminary race at the SEC Championship to qualify with the 12th-fastest time in the country. The sophomore from Espoo, Finland was an honorable mention All-American in the outdoor season last year for the 400mH, This is his first nationals berth for the indoor. Titi joined the team in January and made an instant impact, competing in the 60 and 200m. Like Collier, he earned his qualifying time at Arkansas, running a 20.87 time in the 200 at the Arkansas Open on Feb. 21. He lowered his time in the 200 in each of the final six races of the regular season and enters nationals with the 12th-fastest time in the country. On the backs of these four, the men saw the biggest jump among top 25 teams in the latest USTFCCCA poll. After entering the rankings on February 16, the men have improved their position every week and peaked at No. 16 in the post-conference championship top 25. The two-day indoor championships begin Friday, March 13 at the Randall Tyson Track Complex. ESPN3 will stream the meet live on March 13 and 14 starting at 7 p.m. ET. A tape delay of the championship will air March 23 starting at 7 p.m. ET on ESPNU.

TENNESSEE

Tennessee has qualified six student-athletes to the 2015 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships in Fayetteville, Arkansas -- a group that will compete across five events. Making the trip to Fayetteville for the 14th-ranked Tennessee men are: Tavis Bailey (weight throw), Jake Blankenship (pole vault), Cameron Brown (weight throw), and Christian Coleman (60 meters). Bailey and true freshman Coleman are making their first career trips to the NCAAs while Blankenship and Brown are each returning for the second time. Blankenship narrowly missed the medal stand as a true freshman at the NCAA Championships in 2013, placing fourth after setting UT's freshman record in the event at 5.60 meters. Brown, on the other hand, made his first trip to the NCAAs last season and came in 12th of 20.36. On the women's side, Chelsea Blaase makes her return to the national meet in the 5000m while Cassie Wertman is poised to make her debut in the shot put. Blaase was 11th in the event at the 2014 NCAA Championships (16:39.34). Of those six athletes, five rank inside the NCAA's top 10 in their respective event. Vaulteur Blankenship ranks highest at third nationally (18-8.25/5.70), while Brown is ranked fourth in the weight throw (76-8.50/23.38). Coleman, the recently crowned SEC Men's Freshman Runner of the Year, comes in at sixth in the 60 meters (6.58) followed by Blaase at seventh in the 5000 meters (15:50.40). Wertman rounds things out with a No. 8 ranking in the shot put (56-3.75/17.16). Bailey stands just outside the top 10 on the national performance list in the weight throw, coming in at No. 11 (71-11.50/21.93). The sextet solidified their qualifying positions at the SEC Indoor Championships on Feb. 27-28 as every member of the group collected a medal. The lone gold of the weekend went to Brown, who prevailed in the weight throw with a decisive effort of 74 feet, 1.75 inches (22.60). Bailey's throw of 70 feet, 6.25 inches (21.49) was enough for the silver medal as the weight throw duo solidified their position atop the SEC in the event. Another silver went to Blankenship, who finished runner-up of Andrew Irwin of Arkansas at a height of 18 feet, 3.75 inches (5.01). It was the second career SEC silver for the UT men's captain. The last of the men's medalists was Coleman, who became Tennessee's first medalist in the 60-meter dash since 2008 when his final time of 6.62 was good enough for bronze. On the women's side, a pair of gritty efforts earned Blaase and Wertman their respective medals. Blaase picked up the first SEC medal of her career in the 3000 meters, recovering from an early stumble to battle her way back to third at 9:26.06. Meanwhile, after a frustrating preliminary round saw Wertman just squeak into the finals, the junior unleashed a lifetime best throw of 56 feet, 3.75 inches (17.16) to launch up the leaderboard into third. Behind these individual efforts, the final team standings saw the Volunteer men place seventh with 48.0 points and the women in 10th with 22.0 points. At last season's NCAA Indoor Championships in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Tennessee sent a total of five track and field athletes: five women and one men's representative. UT did not record a team score at the meet. This weekend will be the second competition for Tennessee at the Randal Tyson Track Center as it took part in the Tyson Invitational on Feb. 13-14.

TEXAS A&M

Texas A&M, with the men ranked No. 4 and the women ranked No. 7 nationally, enters the NCAA Indoor Championships with 14 athletes competing in 11 events. The Aggie men have seven athletes entered in five events and the women have seven athletes entered in six events. Last season the A&M women finished fifth in the national championship meet while the men tied for eighth place. Men – Defending NCAA Indoor 400m champion Deon Lendore faces a stern test among the elite field he will face in Fayetteville as well as returning from an injury that prevented him from finishing his prelim race during the SEC Championships. Shavez Hart, runner-up in the SEC Indoor 200m, enters the meet as the world leader in the event with a 20.57 clocking. The Aggies have the collegiate leading time in the 4x400 relay, third best in the world, with a 3:03.23 that ranks second on the all-time college list to the collegiate record of 3:03.20 A&M set a year ago. In winning a third consecutive SEC Indoor title in the 4x400 the Aggies posted a winning time of 3:03.75 on the oversized track at Kentucky without Lendore. Bralon Taplin anchored A&M to the SEC relay victory after he claimed runner-up honors in the 400. Other medal chances for the Aggies include triple jumper Latario Collie, who jumped 54-9 ¼ (16.69) at the Arkansas facility earlier this season and was SEC runner-up with a 54-4 (16.56), and vaulter Chase Wolfle, who equaled the A&M school record of 18-0 ½ (5.50) to place third in the SEC. Women – Brea Garrett, who placed second in the SEC weight throw for the third consecutive year, returns to the NCAA Indoor meet as the defending champion. Garrett won both meets she competed in at Arkansas earlier this season, including the Tyson Invitational when she faced five of the top seven throwers in the nation and took over the collegiate lead that week with a winning toss of 73-1 ¼ (22.28). Shamier Little, third in the NCAA Indoor 400 a year ago, enters with a collegiate leading time of 51.37 from her SEC victory on an oversized track. Kamaria Brown, third in the SEC 200 with a 23.03, is still a threat to win the 200m where she has a season best of 22.97. Scoring opportunities are also available in the 60m with Aaliyah Brown, who finished fourth in the SEC; the heptathlon with Jena Hemann, who placed eighth in the NCAA meet a year ago; and the 4x400 relay that placed third in the SEC.

VANDERBILT

Looking to cap a historic season, Vanderbilt sophomore triple-jumper Simone Charley will compete this weekend in the NCAA Championships in Fayetteville, Ark. Charley broke her own school record and captured third place with a mark of 43-5.25 at last weekend's SEC Championships in Lexington, Ky. The performance enabled Charley to earn All-SEC honors, and her mark is tied for sixth on the national list. "Simone stepped up again," said Vanderbilt head coach Steve Keith. "She has shown that she is one of the best triple jumpers in the country. She had a great series and can now look forward to the NCAA Championships." In her two years at Vanderbilt, Charley is producing one of the finest athletic careers in school history. She qualified for nationals during last year's outdoor season in the triple jump -- where she broke her own school record on multiple dates -- and is also one of the top stars on the Vanderbilt soccer team.
